BILLING REMINDERS

Echocardiograms Reminder

When submitting claims for echocardiograms, physicians may claim either I1312 (Doppler – quantitative) or I1313 (Doppler – qualitative), but not both. A quantitative study includes the elements of a qualitative study.

Premiums for Radiology Services Reminder

MSI has had a number of inquiries from radiologists concerning the use of premium fees (i.e. services claimed with the modifiers US=PREM and US=PR50). As per Preamble section 5.1.82, premium fees may be claimed for certain services provided on an emergency basis during designated time periods. An emergency basis is defined as services that must be performed without delay because of the medical condition of the patient.

Premium fees may be claimed for eligible diagnostic imaging services when the patient's condition requires that the imaging service be done without delay during a designated time period and the interpretation by the radiologist and the formal report are completed during the same designated time period.

Services of a non-emergency nature provided during premium hours do not qualify for premium rates.

It is not appropriate for radiologists to claim services using premium modifiers in the following circumstances:

- during times the radiologist or resident he/she is supervising is scheduled to be onsite in the radiology department
- for non-emergent studies

Additionally, radiologists are reminded that they may only claim for the services provided by a resident if they, as the attending, are onsite. A physician may claim either for the resident's procedure or for his or her own services, but not both, when they are performed at the same time. (Preamble (5.2.9))

At the time of implementation of premium fees for radiology in 2002, radiologists were advised that they must maintain a log of bulk billed services that were submitted with premium codes. Although services are no longer bulk billed, all physicians claiming premium fees are required to be able to provide documentation that verifies Preamble requirements for these services have been met.

Services Related to Research Studies Reminder

Physicians are reminded that costs of medical services that are primarily related to research or experimentation are not the responsibility of the patient or MSI. (Preamble 2.2.25).

Audiometry Reminder

09.41E - Impedance audiometry including tympanometry, static compliance, multiple frequency acoustic reflex and/or reflex decay testing including interpretation

09.41F - Impedance audiometry interpretation only of tympanogram, impedance/compliance and stapedial reflex tests

09.41G - Impedance audiometry including tympanometry, static compliance, single frequency acoustic reflex and/or reflex decay testing including interpretation

HSC 09.41E or G should only be claimed when the physician personally performs and interprets the test. HSC 09.41F should only be claimed when the physician personally interprets either of the tests (09.41E or G). Only one of these HSCs may be claimed per patient per day.

Medical Assistance in Dying (MAID) Fee Summary

The following new interim visit Health service codes were introduced in September 2016 to reimburse physicians for MAID services provided:

03.03M - Medical assistance in dying – First physician

This fee is to reimburse the first physician for time spent providing MAID services outlined in the CPSNS Professional Standard Regarding Medical Assistance in Dying. It includes, but not limited to, the time spent engaging the patient in a discussion of their diagnosis, prognosis, and treatment options, discussing the availability of palliative care for terminally ill patients, assessment of patient for MAID criteria, and arrangement for a second physician to assess the patient.

03.03O - Medical assistance in dying – Second physician

This fee is to reimburse the second physician for time spent providing MAID services outlined in the CPSNS Professional Standard Regarding Medical Assistance in Dying. It includes, but not limited to, the time spent conducting the subsequent assessment of the patient for MAID criteria.

03.03N - Medical assistance in dying – Prescribing physician

This fee is to reimburse the prescribing physician for time spent providing MAID services outlined in the CPSNS Professional Standard Regarding Medical Assistance in Dying. It includes, but not limited to, procuring the medication and administration at the patient's request.

More detail on the services required for medical assistance in dying can be found on the CPSNS website at <http://www.cpsns.ns.ca/Standards-Guidelines/Medical-Assistance-in-Dying>

Each code pays at 30 MSU for the first 30 minutes and 15 MSU per 15 minutes thereafter to a maximum of 2 hours.

The MAID fees are currently interim while billing information is gathered. They are also categorized as independent consideration (IC) and have no automatic MSU value in the system. Each claim submitted is held by MSI and manually adjudicated based on the information provided by the submitter in the claim text.

Billing Guidelines:

Physicians must document in the patient's medical record all steps described in the CPSNS Professional Standard Regarding Medical Assistance in Dying. The physician must also record the start and stop times for the face to face component of the service and the start and stop times for the non-face to face components in the patient's medical record. Both of these times must be submitted in the text field on the electronic claim made to MSI for proper claim assessment.

Non face to face components include all documentation, discussion with other Regulated Health Professionals as necessary and the family if required, and administration process where applicable. The total duration of all components may be claimed. Physicians may not claim for services provided by non-medical personnel such as nurses and nurse practitioners nor for the services of medical trainees such as residents.

If the first or second physician is a specialist and the patient has been formally referred the physician may bill the appropriate specialist prolonged consult fee with the same time documentation requirements as noted above. MAID must be noted in text on the MSI claim form. If the prescribing or administering physician is a specialist the 03.03N code noted above will apply.

Physicians are permitted to claim the MAID fees across multiple encounters and should submit a separate claim for each day the service was provided. Each daily service must meet the minimum 30 minute requirement; shorter encounters should be claimed as a normal visit. Beyond the first 30 minutes, payment for each claim will be rounded down to the nearest 15 minute increment. The maximum of two hours per MAID code per patient applies to each encounter.

Long Term Care Fees Reminder

As per the Homes for Special Care Regulations "Every resident of a nursing home or a home for the aged shall be personally seen by a qualified medical practitioner at least once every six months and the medical practitioner shall examine the medical records of the resident and determine on each occasion whether the resident requires a physical examination."

Physicians are reminded that they may report CGA1, which includes at least one visit with the patient, twice per fiscal year following the billing guidelines listed in Preamble section 5.1.168. Physicians may also report additional visits when required by medical necessity (or necessity for follow up of an ongoing medical problem) and there has been a request from the patient, their family or nursing home staff for the visit.
